

The Eva Woodbridge Victor Scholarship Fund

Since 1952, the Theatre Arts Club of Detroit (TAC) has awarded a yearly scholarship, the Eva Woodbridge Victor Scholarship, to an outstanding female drama student for her senior year's tuition at Wayne State University.

The faculty in the Theatre Department at Wayne State University selects three deserving students for the TAC scholarship committee to interview. One student is selected. The selection is based on the student's talent, contribution to the theatre program at Wayne State University, and financial need.

This scholarship is made possible through the generous donations of the TAC members and all the wonderful people who support TAC's scholarship fundraising events.

Theatre Arts Club of Detroit
www.theatreartsclub.com

Eva Woodbridge Victor

Eva Woodbridge Victor was one of the founding members of the Theatre Arts Club (TAC) when it formed in 1910, and served as the club president from 1928 to 1930. She was a dramatic actress who appeared in a number of Broadway productions and with the Jessie Bonstelle Stock Company in Detroit, Michigan.

Eva was also a stage teacher in diction, and had her own radio program, "The Word Woman," where listeners would tune in to hear Eva perform dramatic readings and teach the importance of proper diction. The program aired daily on WJBK, a radio station in Detroit.

The Scholarship Fund serves as a memorial to Eva Woodbridge Victor. Upon her death, she bequeathed a monetary gift to the TAC to be used specifically for scholarship awards. TAC continues to make contributions to this award through their fundraisers. As much as TAC members enjoy putting on twice-a-year comedies and dramas, they also focus on their goal of fundraising. Eva Woodbridge Victor died on February 2, 1952.